

X... with P297
✓ 3/10/94

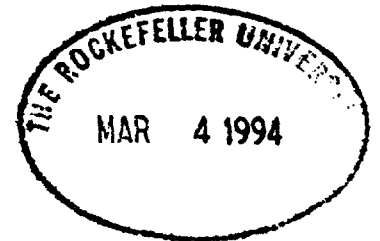

College of Physicians & Surgeons of Columbia University | New York, N.Y. 10032

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE
FOR THE STUDY OF HUMAN REPRODUCTION
Center for Reproductive Sciences

630 West 168th Street

305-4178

March 1, 1994

Dr. Joshua Lederberg
Rockefeller University
1230 York Avenue
New York, N.Y. 10021

Dear Josh:

This letter is really a device so we can see more of you over here, but let me state it formally. The Center for Reproductive Sciences is convening a newly formed Advisory Committee to give us hard-nosed guidance in these very harsh and rocky times in reproductive science. The women's health issue is obviously fashionable, genetics and reproductive endocrinology are clearly heading for fusion, and we want to be positioned optimally with our resources for imaginative and productive activities even before this fusion. We need your wisdom in these matters. Therefore, it gives me great personal pleasure to ask if you would join our Advisory Committee with the promise that we will not clutter up a lot of time, have a collegial membership of the Committee and the scientists will be focussed and informative in the annual meeting with you. I hope you will say yes after you glance at the enclosed description of our outfit.

Warmest personal regards.

Yours sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. Jagiello".

Georgiana M. Jagiello, M.D., D.Sc.
Virgil Damon Professor of Obstetrics & Gynecology and of Genetics and Development
Director, Center for Reproductive Sciences
Vice Chairman for Research Affairs of the Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology

Pls to give it a try. Let's see what happens when it comes to schedules!

P.S. This is a very different outfit than the Franco-American!

GJ:tm